Please do not be misled by the term "odd lots."

It is not a mingle-mangle collection of furniture that we offer. It is regular RICH'S furniture, but the pieces or suites have sold down to one of a kind, and as we usually sell from samples there is no object in keeping samples on our floors when there is no longer any stock back of it. So single pieces and single suites go atsavings of a fourth to a half.

There Is Grace and Poise and Comfort In a Madame Irene Corset

If we seem to stress the fact that Madame Irene Corsets offer a happy solution for most women to the corset question, it is due to a conviction the result of serious study.

No section of the store receives more careful attention than

No section involves more responsibility than the corsets.

We look upon the selling of a corset more than the selling of so much material, so much workmanship.

Be the material ever so expensive, be the workmanship ever so elaborate and fine, if the whole, if the corset is not made into a model that fits it is worse than worthless.

It is because the Madame Irene people have made corsets with this principle in mind that causes us to recommend them to our

There is a Madame Irene model for just about every figure----be it stout, slim, developed or undeveloped.

It will fit, it will lend grace, poise and comfort. The new models for Spring are ready. And now is the best time to be fitted. For the lines of Madame Irene Corsets are NEW, as are the lines of the spring dresses.

"Snow Checks" for Sales of Silk Dresses and of Waists

$18.75 and $21.75 Silk Dresses $15.00 $7.50 Waists $5, Wash Silk Shirts $1.95

We told you yesterday of a sale at $15.00 of new chiffon taffeta and crepe de chine dresses that are matchless values at $18.75 and $21.75; of the $7.50 silk lace and net waists at $5.00; of the arrival of another lot of those splendid wash silk shirts at $1.95.

Thank the snow for this repeated opportunity.

You have read; you know what favor taffetas and crepes de chine are enjoying, and three-tiered skirts, ruffled skirts, over-draped, peg-top skirts, frilled bodiees with shadow lace collars and vestees, drop shoul-ders—there are some five styles, and vours may be the becomingest shade, rose, tango, green, gray, Copenhagen, navy or black.

And the waists at $5.00! They are soft and frilly and fluffy.

Allover silk laces and shadow laces Adores and shadow laters—over chiffons; chiffons show in collars, in vestees, in the short sleeves; the laces are white or cream, the chiffons are colored—high colors—greens, ry, rose, peach, flesh and black.

You will like them.

Concerning the shirts at $1.95.

Undoubtable values. A saving in Much ado is being made over the pronunciation of Go-oct-bask. Everyone knows who the Colonel is and what he has done, but his name takes diversounds on divers tongues. The Standard dictionary declares for "Go-tule," the diphthing being treated as in "Goothe." Yet, if usage is the final authority oersonal friends are to be credited on this point, the amms should be called "Go-thile," with atress on the "go". C. MacParlane, the writer. The Boston Globe insists, however, that "Go-thawle" is correct, the latter syllable being sounded as in "thaw." We are told further that the family name in good Dutch is the equivalent of the English will be a standard to the English will be a surface to the Final Planders."

Turkey Brought to Terms.

Turkey Brought to Terms. Turkey's blustering preparation to recover from Greece certain important Asegan islands, lost through the first Bulkan war, have tamely subsided. Months ago the Ottoman government, embolemed by its re-occupation of Adrianopie in defiance of the Powers' command, purchased a dreadnopular from Brazil, mus-tered a body of carefully selected trops and laid deep schemes to overwaw Greece. It was rumored at the time that a Turko-Bulgarian alliance had been per-fected, and there was evidently an attempt to draw the southern Albanians into a far-reaching cofspiracy signainst their neighbors. Neither of these plans, how-ever, materialized, and so the ambitious militarists of Turkey were checked.

against their neighbors. Neither of these plans, howwer, materialized, and so the ambitious militarists of Turkey were checked.

More important, however, was the refusal of the French government to sanction an Ottoman lean of a bundred and forty million dollars until there were definite assurances that it would not be used, even arity, for aggressions against Greece. "It would have been issued last November," we are told, "if turkey had then promised to abide by the Aegean award, and give reality to the treaty of peace with Greece. But the loan has been deliberately held back because of Turkey's defiant mood. The Powers falled most deplorably to make the Turks come out of Adtianople for fear of the threatened "financial distrees," but in the matter of the islands they have succeeded, for it is the action of France in pursuance of this policy that has brought Turkey to its senses."

Greece thus remains in possession of the prizes which she covered from deeply patriotic as well as injuterial motives and which she won through her faigh valor in the earlier Bakan war. That Turkey continues to hold Adrianople is due solely to the heatinney of the larger Powers in enforcing the terms of the treaty of London. There is nevertheless cause for world-wide satisfaction that the corner of Europe had a most distressing effect upon business everywhere; even in the United States it was 'indirectly felt. It is insuring to know that the controlling forces in Old World diplomacy are strongly arrayed for continued posse.

And now they are talking of the legion of honor Sarah Bernhardt, which amounts considering the arrival of the honor, to Bernhardt being almost prophet without honor.

Fire Losses Here and Abroad.

FITE LOSSES HERE and ADTORIU.
London's five department numbers only thriteen hundred and seventy-four men, while nearly five thousand are enlisted in New York's, the former's equipment is less costly and its general organization no more efficient. Yet the annual fire loss of London is searcely a third of that of New York. In the last year for which comparative figures are available London's loss amounted to three million, nine hundred and forty-five thousand dollars in, four itsouand, four hundred and three fires, while New Yorks loss was twelve million four hundred and seventy thousand dollars in thirteen thousand, sight hundred and sixty-eight fires.

tweive million four hundred and seventy thousand dollars in thirteen thousand, sight hundred and sixty-eight free.

This record is noteworthy because it is breadly typica of conditions throughout the United States as contrasted with those in Europe. The per capital receives the property of the conditions of the country, in which the lavishness of nature has tempted, to waste and producing the property of the property which seems inherent in the American character and shows itself in innumerable ways. Chilefty, perhaps, thas been pred of the conditions of the country, in which the lavishness of nature has tempted, to waste and producing the property of the property which seems there have never known the daily need of thrift and care and orderliness which has been ground into the peoples of older countries; and in the breathless haste to build themselves into a great and properous nation, habits of recklessness have become ingrained."

Fortunately, public sentiment in the United States ingrained."

ingrained."
Fortunated: public sentiment in the United States is at last awakening to the need of earnest, organized effort to reduce fire waste. An important step to this end is the movement to secure more adequate laws on the construction and inspection of buildings and to educate the rank and file of the people in simple rules for the prevention of fires. Care in little things will do more than anything else to redeem the country's appalling record in this regard.

Just a flyer in the stock market has proved to many a man that riches have wings.

Adam's downfall was due to an apple, but many another downfall can be traced to a peach.

Response Of the National Banks.

Response Of the National Banks.
United States treasury officials announce that seven thousand, four bundred and sixty-five national banks have applied for membership in the federal reserve system and that the aggregate capital of these institutions is a billion, fifty-four million, five hundred and thirty-three thousand, five hundred and fifty-four dollars, or interly-nine and seventy-five hundredtand per cent of the capital of all the national banks in the country.

That is a virtually unanimous acceptance of the new banking and currency law as a sound and beneficial measure. The act was cordially praised throughout the Union immediately after the President signed it, but its most substantial and significant tribute is the readiness with which the nation's banking interests come within its requirements and avail themselves of the opportunities it offers.

The new system will be launched with an authorised capital of at least a bundred million dollars and all the banks entering. State institutions being included, will represent considerably more than a builtion dollars.

This means that the new banking and currency order will be inaugurated under the most favorable circumstances possible and that its benefits to the country will be realized in the very outset.

The fortifications of the canal will be with only $2,500,000 more, and then Colonel can pick any of several jobs that have bee him.

"In the Wake of the Ideal"

"In the Wake of the Ideal"

The last halt century has marked the rise of a rew type of self-centered idealism—a type which has found alight expression in literature as yet. With the extension of opportunities for women in activities more or less remote from the loom and the fireside, there has come the wave of revolt and self-casertion inevitable to the exchange of new ideals for old. In this period of transition we note, then, signs of the woman as the militant visionary and the man the section of the self-case of the woman as the militant visionary and the man the section of the feminise idealist in Ibsen's Nors, the doll-wife, who comes to construct an ideal of what the herself would be when adversity priciss the frail bubble of various conventions which she has accepted second-hand. Atlanta's

Best Salesman

No merchant or manufacturer with an honorable proposition to put to the people of Atlanta can find a better sales-man than the advertising columns of The Journal.

It is a daily visitor into nearly every Atlanta home. The people have confi-dence in it. They regard it in the light of an intimate personal friend.

They believe, and properly, that it would not introduce them to anyone not worthy of a hearing.

They turn to its advertising when they are in need, because they are finding it profitable to do so.

They prefer to deal with its adver-tisers because they have more confidence in the men who advertise in The Journal than in those who do not.

They are in what might be called a receptive mood--are, as our Missouri friends would say, "ready to be shown."

The man with goods to sellow.

The man with goods to sell to the people of Atlanta should choose the best salesman to be found, the one with the universal entry into the homes-the advertising columns of The Journal, through which you can reach all the people immediately.

SS Bellwood Ave.

If our good old town was through, this office would nail up, its doors tonight, and our boys: would file their applications with some kind hearted farmer, who would feed them until they could get their plowing hands in again.

No one needs to be convinced that Atlanta is just started. That her growth from now on is to be greater than ever in the past.

be greater than ever in the past.

A good many of us have seen in ten years, what growth will do to semi-central property. We have seen it reach out and draw to its center, the quiet homes of older citizens. Take property worth hundreds and make it bring thousands.

We have a great big lot on a great big thoroughfare, located where big things are bound to hit. Ninty feet front and two hundred feet deep. In five years it will be worth three times its present price. Can be improved right now and be made to pay good interest on the investment.
